

“FLYING INTO ACTION” CHECKLIST

As the Girl Scout Brownie Team flies into action, use this checklist to maximize the impact on the girls and their community.

The girls identify a variety of places or situations where they could be useful and think about who might need them and what they could do. (Session 4: Brownie Brainstorm, page 76.)

The girls make a Team decision with backup plans! (Session 4: Brownie Team Trade, page 78.) This is the first step toward the Take Action Key: The Brownies identify a problem they care about.

The girls prepare for the action while learning more about the problem they are addressing and how their efforts will make a difference. During this step, the girls meet people associated with the place they have chosen for their action. Interacting with others will deepen the Brownies’ awareness of their communities. This is the second step toward the Take Action Key: The Brownies plan and prepare.

An example of this step: The Brownies have chosen to take action with a food pantry. You arrange for them to meet with a volunteer from the pantry to learn more about hunger in the area and the kinds of food people need. The girls go on to make a list of the foods needed and create posters for a food drive.

The girls Take Action. This is the third step to earning the Take Action Key: improving the world!

The girls reflect on their project and add a memory keeper about it to their Quest books.

The girls celebrate and earn the Take Action Key.
